THE MILES AND ALGER CONTROVERSY.

There is bad blood between General Miles and Secretary Alger, growing out of orders sent by the War Department during the war with Spain. It is stated that upon his return to Washington General Miles will be asked for an explanation of interviews with him, which recently appeared in the papers, and the publication of certain dispatches which the War Department has not made public. It is believed that General Miles will force the War Department to order him tried by Court-Martial, and the controversy may extend to both Houses of Congress.

General Miles in his interview with Mr. J. D. Whippley, who has just returned from Porto Rico, makes several distinct statements. He says he is commanding General of all the American armies. He charges Adjutant-General Corbin with sending a secret dispatch to General Shafter implying that he is not. He charges the War Department with garbling and suppressing parts of the whole of certain messages in their transmission to the public, thus putting him and his relations to the army in a false light. He charges that his recommendations in regard to moving troops from Santiago were disregarded, the disregard leading to grave consequences. He recites the fact that General Shafter disobeyed orders in occupying fever infected houses and permitting Cuban refugees to mix with the American troops, and he claims that the authorities at Washington allowed the plans of his Porto Rico campaign to leak out to such an extent as to render them useless and dangerous.

General Miles will have to deny the statements credited to him, and thus end the controversy, or stand by them and compel the War Department to order an investigation by Court-Martial. Even if this is done, it is certain that Congress will make a full investigation of the conduct of the war, and place the responsibility for the gross mismanagement, which is apparent to all, and which has resulted in the death of so many brave men from disease, where it properly belongs.

A GOLDBUG ROAST

The Administration has increased the National debt unnecessarily by issuing $200,000,000 of interest-bearing bonds, and withdrawing that amount of money from circulation, and its organs "point with pride" to the fact that the money received for the bonds is lying useless in the Treasury. Now it can call for subscriptions for another bond issue and have $400,000,000 in the Treasury before the November election.

Boasting of the available cash in the Treasury reminds us of the man who borrowed a hundred dollars, on which he paid a high rate of interest, just to show people the money.

THERE is more danger of a conflict between the union miners and the deputies at Pana, Illinois, than between the Spaniards and Americans in Cuba. The mine owners have imported negroes to take the place of the striking miners, and the situation is very critical. The striking miners are being reinforced and the sheriff is increasing the number of deputies, and unless wise counsel prevails there will be a conflict.

THERE are over 2,000 sick soldiers at Mount Point, Long Island, five hundred cases of typhoid fever among the troops at Oklaomauga, and two hundred and fifty fever patients at the Presidio hospital, San Francisco. The latter contracted the fever at Camp Merritt, which the Report says was located on ground formerly used as a Chinese cemetery.

ONE of the causes alleged for the war with Spain, was that several thousand Cubans were starved to death by Weyler, and now, according to reports, owing to the negligence or incompetence of the War Department, several thousand American soldiers, who never left the United States, have been treated almost as cruelly as the Cubans were by Weyler.

SECRETARY ALGER and two political friends rode in a railroad president's private car filled with good things to eat and drink, while fifty sick soldiers hemmed in a second-class car, dependent upon contributions from the trainmen to get a sandwich and a cup of tea. That is goldbugism, pure and unadulterated.

THE two wings of the Populist party in Idaho failed to agree and each nominated a full State ticket. The Taylor wing named George B. Hill, formerly of Carson City, for Governor and James Gunn for Congress, and the other faction named D. H. Andrews for Governor and L. T. D. Anderson for Congress.

THE troops, who never left the United States, but for political purposes, were concentrated in the swamps of Florida and Georgia and Chinese cemeteries in San Francisco, have lost more men from malarial fever, than were killed by Spanish bullets.

THE war with Spain is over, but the war with Alger is being waged with vigor.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION.

An Appeal to the Several Political Parties.

The members of the Nevada Equal Suffrage Association respectfully request the press of the State to publish the following address to the several political parties:

Gentlemen:—Since every citizen, irrespective of party or sex, is doubtless aware of the valiant effort made by the suffragists of Nevada to secure by appropriate legislation the elimination of the word male from before the word citizen, wherever it occurs in our State Constitution, it is unnecessary to recount the details of the work accomplished in that line, as the continued increase in suffrage sentiment should be satisfactory proof that our efforts have not been in vain, nor is our grand cause a lost cause, even though defeated by the Legislature of '97. Equal suffrage is the inevitable result of social evolution; it may be delayed by adverse legislation, but it cannot be prevented. It must come. It will come. It is not a battle for supremacy, but for equality; simply an honest effort towards a truly representative government.

Nevada suffragists instead of becoming discouraged, drew new inspirations from our temporary defeat, and have worked with renewed energy and zeal, with the confident hope that the Legislature of '99 will give our petition more favorable consideration. As a preliminary means to this end, in the spirit of that true Americanism which proclaims "equal rights for all," we earnestly solicit the several political parties to insert an equal suffrage plank in their platform and thereby place the question of woman's enfranchisement on an equality with all other party measures or issues, then those who will have the honor to represent the people in the Legislature of '99 will realize the obligation of voting the will of their constituents rather than their individual opinion. Defeating the question in the Legislature is an arbitrary exercise of authority; therefore if all parties give the question their platform endorsement, legislators will be more apt to vote the proposed Constitutional Amendment to the people for decision.

Gentlemen of the several parties, please bear in mind that women individually and collectively, are as deeply interested in the well-being of our State and nation as are the men individually and collectively. We have as perseveringly endured the changed conditions of the times. We have and are to-day bearing our full pro rata of the State labor. We are enumerated in the basis of political representation, yet we are denied representation. We are taxed to support the State government, yet we have no voice in regulating taxation. We are amenable to all the laws, but we have no voice in making those laws. Now all these conditions are a direct contradiction of the spirit and text of our governmental system, which professes to derive its "just powers from the consent of the governed."

It has been said that the decision of the moment is the mother of ages. The history of social evolution bears testimony where the decisions of the moment have changed the destiny of nations and of the world. It was the decisions of the moment when King John gave to the barons of England the Magna Charta, and the decisions of the moment gave to us the immortal Declaration of Independence, which made possible the grandest political achievement of the nineteenth century, that is the right of the citizens of the United States to govern themselves by their lawfully expressed opinions through the exercise of the ballot. The grandest achievement of the twentieth century will be equality in the exercise of this high privilege, irrespective of sex or condition other than are specified by the Federal Constitution, hence the several political parties, when in State Convention assembled, can, by the decisions of a moment recognize in their platforms that the proposed Constitutional Amendment ought to be submitted to the people, and the decisions of that moment may be the mother of ages of a more exalted womanhood, a nobler manhood, a broader civilization, a loftier patriotism and better government.

Torrey's Cavalry to be Discharged.

The form will also provide for a certificate from the Secretary of the convention that the delegate has been actually in attendance at the convention and is therefore entitled to a return trip free of charge. Each such receipt certificate when properly filled out by the selling agent and signed by the delegate, also by the Secretary, will be countersigned and stamped by the agent at Reno, if presented within twenty-four hours after the adjournment of the convention. When so stamped and countersigned, it will be a continuous ticket for use of the delegate named therein on the return trip. Let it be understood that delegates to the State Convention ask for such certificate from the agent at their starting point and pay their fare to Reno, retain their certificate until properly filled out by the Secretary of the convention.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Lieutenant Colonel Henry, Chief of the Intelligence Department of the French Ministry of War, committed suicide at Paris. He committed the act shortly after receiving a visit from an officer on the general staff. The imprisonment of Colonel Henry grew out of the Dreyfus affair and it is believed that he was instrumental in securing the forged incriminating document that convicted Dreyfus and that he had accomplices there is little doubt. An opportunity was given Dreyfus to commit suicide, thereby ending the sensation, but Dreyfus declined and now the Minister of Justice is about to grant him a new trial. There is considerable excitement over the revival of the Dreyfus and M. Zola episode, and men in high military circles in Paris are considerably agitated. Colonel Ducloux has been arrested for complicity in the forgery.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.
